DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 13 September 2004 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because applicant did not provide a legible copy of all non-U.S. patents. The images on the CD-ROM are of such poor quality as to render them unreadable. Furthermore, the CD-ROM submission does not comply with 37 CFR 1.52(E) because the files are not in ASCII format and it does not contain proper subject matter for CD-ROM submission (see 37 CFR 1.52). It has been placed in the application file, but the non-U.S. documents referred to therein has not been considered as to the merits. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609 ¶ C(1).

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Art Unit: 3732

Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-3 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,767,208. This is a double patenting rejection.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-7, 11-40 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-28 of U. S. Patent No. 6,767,208 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The claims of the patent "anticipate" the claims of the application. Accordingly, the application claims are not patentably distinct from the patent claims. Here, the more specific patent claims encompass the broader application claim. Following the rationale in In re Goodman cited in the preceding paragraph, where applicant has once been granted a patent containing a claim for the specific or narrower invention, applicant may not then obtain a second patent with a claim for the generic or broader invention without first submitting an appropriate terminal disclaimer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 36-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Little et al. (United States Patent No. 5,119,408).

Little et al disclose an apparatus comprising an x-ray source 26, a scintillator and radiation detector 28 coupled together, a rotatable table 54 positioned between the x-ray source and the scintillator, and a computer coupled to the detector to generate a digital model with the scanned data.

Claims 36-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McCroskey et al. (United States Patent No. 5,023,895).

McCroskey et al disclose an apparatus comprising an x-ray source 12, a scintillator 27, a radiation detector 29 coupled to the scintillator, a rotatable table 24 positioned between the x-ray source and the scintillator, and a computer 60 coupled to the detector to generate a digital model with the scanned data.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7, 11-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hultgren (United States Patent No. 6,217,334) in view of McCroskey et al.

Hultgren discloses a method of creating a digital model of a patient's teeth from an impression taken thereof. Hultgren discloses the invention except that the impression is scanned using a laser scanner rather than an x-ray source. McCroskey et al. disclose that an x-ray scanner is an equivalent structure known in the art to create three-dimensional digital images of objects. Therefore, because these two scanners were art-recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to substitute an x-ray scanner for the laser scanner used by Hultgren.

Conclusion

This is a Continuation of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/044,385. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
